

Equipment list - clothing:

Hats and other head coverings:

Sun glasses	The good old pilot glasses – fashionable in a world that lacks most birds, not to mention pilots.	s.a. 50 $ s.a. 0,1 pound
Mirrored sunglasses	“No one shall see me my eyes” is your motto ... too bad, since they wonderfully fit the setting sun behind the radioactive hills.	s.a. 75 $ s.a. 0,1 pound
Baseball-Cap	Be it in Ranger camouflage colors or the colors of your favorite baseball team, baseball caps give your eyes just the right amount of shade to survive a day in the northern California Wastes.	s.a. 5 $ ca. 1 pound
Fedora	Not only worn by archeology professors, but also by fashionable mafiosi.	s.a. 45 $ s.a. 1 pound
Straw hat	A hat, made from straw that, has two redeeming qualities: it's cheap and it protects the head from the harsh, Californian summer sun.	s.a. 5 $ s.a. 0.8 pounds
Cowboy hat	A wide brimmed hat either from leather or woven from fabrics of a style once called a Stetson. Cowboy hats are all the rage deep inland from the coast, where large herds of Brahmin are being kept.	s.a. 50 $ s.a. 1.2 pounds

Foot wear:

Hiking or army boots	A pair of solid boots. Very useful, but nothing special.	s.a. 30 $ s.a. 1,5 pounds
Sneakers	A good pair of pre war sneakers are worth their weight in gold. And help the adept thief to get that gold back in.	s.a. 50 $ s.a. 1 pound
Leather shoes (stylish)	Either from before the War or from more recent production, the ideal foot wear for the wastelandish businessman or a “special” occasion.	s.a. 150 $ s.a. 1 pound

Leather shoes (common)	Whether it's a simple pair of moccasins or complex wares with good soles made by a good shoemaker, leather shoes are found often, but they aren't especially cheap.	s.a. 65 $ s.a. 1 pound
Sandals	Please don't combine these with socks. Sandals are found in many variations in the Wasteland, starting with the very fashionable sandals that the ladies of the high society wear in some cities, to the simple sandals that many of the poor wear, that can't afford proper shoes.	s.a. 10 $ (shoe replacement) s.a. 100 $ (high society) s.a. 0,7 pounds
High heels/ Pumps	For the woman of world – or the home builder from before the bombs fell. Available in the most diverse variations.	s.a. 150 $ s.a. 0,5 pounds
Cloth shoes	The upper side is made from thick, relatively crack resistant cloth with a sole made from leather or rubber. Not really the most noble of shoes, but very comfortable none the less.	s.a. 25 $ s.a. 0,5 pounds
Rubber boots	Not very fashionable, but durable. Rumor has it, that those boots can even resist radioactive goo for a while. It shouldn't be tried for long, though – especially not with one's own feet.	s.a. 25 $ s.a. 1 pound
Wooden shoes	Not really incredibly comfortable, but not very expensive either. Mostly found as a product from after the War in the Wasteland.	s.a. 20 $ s.a. 2 pounds

Upper body clothes & Overalls:

Men's shirt	A simple cotton or cloth shirt. Actually meant for men, but often worn by the other gender, too. Incredibly comfortable (even though it's a bit scratchy sometimes).	s.a. 15 $ 1 pound
Fine shirt	A shirt of more thin cloth, usually held in plain colors. Perfect as a piece of a three piece suit.	s.a. 40 $ 1 pound
Pullover	A thick, heavy pullover. The post War models are usually made from cotton, since sheep probably died out in the nuclear holocaust.	s.a. 30 $ s.a. 2 po.
Blouse	From plain and drab to colorful and gaudy. From lesser quality to expensive blouses from Italian silk. The latter are of course nearly all pre War products.	s.a. 35 $ 1 pound

T-Shirt	T-Shirts were probably made in the billions before the war and even afterward they are one of the most popular clothing items – at least according to the sale's numbers.	s.a. 12 $ 1 pounds
Polo shirt	Cut similar to a t-shirt, but with a rudimentary collar and buttons.	s.a. 20 $ 1 pound
Mechanic's Overall	Big, usually quite dirty after use, overall filled with pockets for tools.	s.a. 45 $ 3 pounds
Chef's apron	A simple cloth apron to keep the normal clothes clean while cooking.	s.a. 15 $ 1 pounds
Blacksmith's apron	An apron made from thick leather, to keep the normal clothes uninflamed while smithing.	s.a. 50 $ s.a. 4 po.
Chef's or confectioner's jacket	A white jacket as it is mostly worn by chef's and confectioners during work hours.	s.a. 30 $ s.a. 2 po.
Leather coat	A long coat made of leather. Be it brahmin or pig's leather, pre War model or post War, coats come in the most diverse variants. Please look up the armor rating in the armor list.	s.a. 120 $ s.a. 6 po.
Cloth coat	Similar to leather coats, there are also cloth coats. Post War models are of course, mostly made from cotton.	s.a. 120 $ s.a. 5 po.
Windbreaker	A jacket made from synthetic fibers. It's lightweight and ideal against wind and rain.	s.a. 70 $ s.a. 1 po.
Denim jacket	A simple jacket made of denim. It can take quite a beating and (usually) looks pretty good.	s.a. 90 $ s.a. 3 po.
Leather jacket	A jacket made of leather. As with the leather coat, there are a lot of variations. Please look up the armor rating in the armor list.	s.a. 100 $ s.a. 4 po.
Sports coat	The second part of the three part suit. For the third part, depending on your definition, either look at the pants or the accessories (under ties).	s.a. 150 $ s.a. 4 po.
Tuxedo jacket	Someone who wasn't well versed in clothing, wouldn't see a difference between a tuxedo jacket and a sports coat – proper society knows the difference of course.	s.a. 350 $ s.a. 4 po.

Pants and skirts:

Leather pants	A simple pair of pants made from leather. Available as both pre and post War product.	s.a 60 $ s.a. 2 po.
Jeans	A pair of jeans. Available in various cuts, and both long and short.	s.a. 40 $ s.a. 1,5 po.
Cloth pants	Like the jeans, you can find simple cloth pants in the most diverse variations.	s.a. 20 $ s.a. 1 po.
Tuxedo pants	A pair of fashionable, but subtle pants. Perfectly suited for businessmen or that special occasion.	s.a. 90 $ s.a. 1 po,
Cloth skirt	A simple, but artfully cut skirt. The costs are mostly dependent on quality and length.	s.a. 30 $ s.a. 1,5 po
Mini skirt	A very short cloth skirt, that looks incredibly well, with a pair of fitting legs.	s.a. 45 $ s.a. 0,5 po.
Denim skirt	A skirt made of denim. Like the cloth skirt, it's available in differing variations and price ranges.	s.a. 50 $ s.a. 1 po.

Dresses:

Summer dress	A light dress, made of light cloth. Loose fitting – but not necessarily for loose women.	s.a. 30 $ s.a. 1 po.
(heavy) Cloth dress	A heavy dress for colder weather and heavier works.	s.a. 60 $ s.a. 2 po.
Evening dress	A dress for casinos, upper class bars and yes, even the theater.	s.a. 120 $ s.a. 1,5 po.
Ball gown	A dress made for those rare – but very expensive – occasions.	s.a. 300 $ s.a. 4 po.
Wedding gown	Do we really have to tell you guys as to what occasion this is for?	s.a. 450 $ s.a. 6 po.

Underwear:

Socks	Fully common socks, neither very long nor very short. Prices depend on quality and color as well as method of production.	s.a. 4 $ 0,5 pounds
knee-high stockings	Knee-high stockings as they are often worn together with short pants. For example by soccer players.	s.a. 9 $ 0,7 pounds
Tights	Tights fit especially well to the legs of women or heroes.	s.a. 14 $ 1 pound
Nylon stockings	Nylon stockings can be found in great quantities in the post apocalyptic wasteland – both with and without suspenders.	s.a. 30 $ 0,5 pounds
Thong	So little cloth and yet such a big effect on the eyes of the people, whom one shows this piece of clothing.	s.a. 25 $ 0,2 pounds
Briefs	A pair of very common under pants. Those produced for men come – of course – with the needed 'extra volume'.	s.a. 10 $ 0,5 pounds
Boxers	Boxers or boxer's shorts are popular with both men and women in the Wasteland.	s.a. 8 $ 0,5 pounds
Bra	Very popular with women that prefer a straight back.	s.a. 15 $ 0,5 pounds
Push-Up	For women that want to emphasize certain body parts.	s.a. 40 $ 0,5 pounds

Accessories:

Cufflinks	Chic button overlays made from precious metals.	s.a. 90 $ 0,1 pounds
Tie pin	A beautiful, fashionable accessory to keep the tie in place.	s.a. 200 $ 0,1 pounds
Tie	One could also call it a neckerchief with airs and graces.	s.a. 50 $ 0,5 pounds
Bow tie.	This on the other hand, could also be called “very uncomfortable”.	s.a. 70 $ 0,4 pounds
Bolo Tie	The original neck adornment of the formally dressed cowboy.	s.a. 35 $ 0.5 pounds
Belt	A long band, made from cloth or leather, to keep the pants up.	s.a. 15 $ 1 pound
Suspenders	Another tool to keep the pants up, but usually made from rubber and working by a different principle.	s.a. 20 $ 1 pound

Gloves:

Rubber gloves	Perfectly suited for both break ins and medical operations, both.	s.a. 5 $ 0,1 pounds
Glacé kid glove	For the ladies of the highest high society.	s.a. 45 $ 0,2 pounds
Cloth gloves	Comfortable and cheap gloves for the most diverse uses.	s.a. 20 $ s.a. 1 po.
Fur gloves	Again, meant for the ladies of the highest high society. The difference being: these keep warm, too.	s.a. 60 $ s.a. 1 po.
Leather gloves	Comfortable and versatile in it's uses. Accordingly they are available in various qualities and cuts.	s.a. 15 $ s.a. 1 po.
Kevlar gloves	These gloves were made with close combat in mind and are nearly impossible to cut through. Accordingly expensive.	s.a. 120 $ s.a. 0,5 po.
Work gloves	A pair of solid, big working gloves. One size fits nearly everyone. (Actually, many are big enough that they can be used by small handed Super Mutants).	s.a. 35 $ 1 pound
