

Two wheelers with engines:

Chopper
Description:	A long wheel fork, often associated with the brand name Harvey Johnson. These bikes are not well suited to curves, but no other bike looks as cool. Now all one needs is a leather jacket and an old helmet based on World War I German Pickelhauben and the Rocker Outfit is complete.

Motocross
Description:	Few bells and whistles, basically just a small, rather powerful engine, two wheels, a steering rod and very well cushioned off road tires: voilà, one has the maybe funnest and without a doubt most maneuverable motorbike. On a straight road one might be overtaken by other bikes, but where those drive around mountains, the Motocross drives over them.
